

Alexander Graham Bell

Alexander Graham Bell was born in 1847 in Edinburgh, Scotland and went school there. At the age of 15, he dropped out school, but he managed to pass the exams and finally he entered to the University in London. In 1868 he worked with father in London and studied at the same time. At the spring of 1868 he was forced to move to America, because of the deaths of his brothers. In 1872 he opened his own

- 1847 born in Scotland, Edinburgh, go to school there
- 1868 work with his father at London
- 1868 move out in America with his parents, because of the deaths of his brothers
- 1872 he opened his own school
- 1903 develop the multiple telegraph
- 1903 write notes about the telephone
- 1922 die

school. While he was teaching, he was doing researches. Eventually he developed the multiple telegraph and the telephone. Unfortunately in 1922 he die

